

Careful There's a Baby in the House

JULY 19 - AUGUST 26

Tutu Gallery, secret address, Bedstuy Brooklyn

Tutu Gallery is proud to announce a marvelous gallery opening and its first exhibition, Careful There's a Baby in the House, showcasing sketchbook pages and paintings by teenage artist Daphne Knouse (@teataculr). Distinguished by highly contrasting colors, Daphne's work portrays characters ranging from religious figures to everyday passerby. Amid moments of codependence, conflict and spiritual struggle, these characters morph into geometric shapes or bizarre creatures, seemingly unaware of their difficult circumstances. Daphne creates these mysterious narratives with a touch of artistic looseness, drawing inspiration from her family life, friends and the streets of New York City. Her sensitivity towards small people embraces their signs of weakness with acceptance, granting them total freedom from duty and function.

ARTIST CV - Daphne Knouse (@teataculr)

Education

AA Bard College

BFA Rhode Island School of Design, graduating 2023

Solo Exhibition

2019 - Careful There's a Baby in the House, Tutu Gallery, Brooklyn, NY

Group Exhibitions

2019 - Teen Art Salon Benefit, GALERIE Sales Gallery, Long Island City, NY

2019 - High School Scholarship Winners Exhibition, Dedalus Foundation, New York, NY

2019 - Arts and Letters, Bard High School Early College, New York, NY

2018 - Living Artists, The Living Gallery, Brooklyn, NY

2018 - Twenty Under 20, Plaxall Gallery, Long Island City, NY

2017 - Cooper Union Summer Art Intensive Exhibition, The Cooper Union, New York, NY

